

Federal Election 2010

SSAA National members' notice

SSAA members value their pastimes and recreations of shooting, hunting and fishing and enjoying the great outdoors.

The Greens political party has made it quite clear that their policies are anti recreational shooting and hunting and as such, the party poses a threat to our way of life.

While it is unlikely that any law-abiding firearm owner or outdoorsman would deliberately vote for The Greens in the Senate in the upcoming Federal Election, it is important to vote 'below the line' to ensure your preferences don't flow to The Greens without your knowledge.

This election day, remember to vote below the line, fill in every number, put The Greens last and protect your recreation.

Due to the Federal Election date being set for Saturday, August 21, SSAA National has decided to create a Federal Election 2010 web 'microportal', detailing the various political parties' statements on shooting sports and recreational hunting. In addition, the microportal will have links to the party websites and policies. The webpage will be updated as material comes to hand.

Go to the SSAA National homepage at www.ssaa.org.au and click on the 'Federal Election 2010' banner.

Put The Greens last!
