

IMPORTING PAINTBALL MARKERS

The importation of paintball firearms (also known as paintball markers and skirmish paint guns) is controlled under the Customs (Prohibited Imports) Regulations 1956 (the Regulations). Importers must first obtain permission to bring these goods into Australia.

IMPORTING PAINTBALL MARKERS

To import paintball markers (designed exclusively to fire paintballs) into Australia, importers must first obtain written authorisation from the police firearms or weapons registry in their State or Territory or the Commonwealth Attorney-General's Department.

Police Authorisation

To import single-shot, repeating-action and semi-automatic paintball markers, the authorisation will be in the form of a B709A Importation of Firearms – Police Confirmation and Certification Form (B709A Form).

Please note

The above information does not apply to a paintball marker with the following characteristics:

- has a fully automatic firing capability
- is substantially the same in appearance as a fully automatic firearm.

To import paintball markers with these characteristics, written permission to import must be obtained from the Commonwealth Attorney-General's Department.

Attorney-General's Permission

Written permission to import must be obtained from the Commonwealth Attorney-General's Department where the importation of paintball markers is for one of the following purposes:

- government use (official purposes)
- for repair, modification, testing, training, government contract or certain other project or tender, or for use in the production of a film, for transshipment or for use by a foreign defence force in a defence-sanctioned activity (specified purposes)

- the importer is a proven researcher or developer of firearms or related defence and law enforcement products and the article is being imported for the completion of a project or tender
- previously exported firearms returning to Australia (returned goods).

The original permission must be presented to Customs and Border Protection at or before importation.

AMMUNITION

Paintball ammunition (known as paintballs) for use with paintball marker also requires an authorisation to be imported. When being imported with these firearms, this ammunition can be listed on the same B709 Form or Commonwealth Attorney-General's permission as the firearms.

OTHER REQUIREMENTS

Safety Testing

All firearms entering Australia must undergo safety testing conducted by Customs and Border Protection. Safety testing requirements do not apply to a firearm that:

- was manufactured before 1 January 1900
- is designed or adapted for competition target shooting
- was previously exported from Australia and the importer can produce the export permit
- is being imported temporarily for a lawful competition or hunting activity
- is being imported for official or specified purposes (as detailed)
- has been deactivated.

Unique Serial Number

All firearms being imported into Australia must have a unique serial number unless they were manufactured before 1 January 1900.

FURTHER INFORMATION

Penalty: The maximum penalty for importing these goods without import approval is a penalty not exceeding $275,000, imprisonment for 10 years, or both.
