Storage in transit

The Firearms Act 2024 requires specific actions in regard to any firearms or related things that are in transit (i.e. away from the approved storage location), but in the possession of the respective licence holder for that firearm or related things.

Section 307(1) of the Firearms Act 2024 requires that:

- a. Firearms must not be loaded
- b. Must be secured against any unauthorised use, using trigger/action locks or otherwise rendering them temporarily inoperable
- c. When not in immediate possession, be stored in the best location to ensure its safekeeping (e.g. a locked container or cabinet within the vehicle, secured in the boot or locked glovebox, secured in accommodation that the person is using).

Additionally, where being secured firearms must be secured separately from other related things, including ammunition, magazines, bolts and if in a vehicle must not be left unattended unless the vehicle is locked and the firearm and related items are not visible from the exterior of the vehicle (Section 308 of the Firearms Act 2024).

Containers used to secure firearms or related things, must be secured to the vehicle either fixed in placed or locked to a part of the vehicle (e.g. padlocked to seat belt anchor point; bolted in the boot).

If a firearm is to be left unattended, consideration should be given to using approved shared storage, temporary storage with another licence holder or a licensed trade storage location.
